

During a birthday party, five year old Mia enjoyed playing, singing "Happy Birthday", eating cake and watching her friend open her presents. When everyone went outside to play, Mia said, "Mum, I'm ready to go." they thanked their host and pulling out of the driveway, Mia's mum asked her to share the best part of her day. "Leaving", said Mia. Smiling, she fell asleep before they turned the corner.

Even if we don't realise we're exhausted, we all need physical, mental and emotional rest. God also provides divine rest when we accept both the good news of salvation through Christ and daily spiritual rest as the Spirit enables us to live for Christ by faith. Those who place their trust in God can depend on his unending presence, unlimited power and unchanging promises.

Saved through Christ's work on the cross, we can rest in the peace of his sufficiency. We can experience divine rest as a guarantee fulfilled eternally, both now and when Jesus comes again.

"Anyone who enters God's rest also rests from their works, just as God did from his". So, secured in Christ, we can enjoy a hope-filled life of surrender and loving obedience as we trust and rely on Him.

Only He can provide rejuvenating rest yesterday and today and forever.

Read Hebrews 4: 1 - 4, 6 & 7, 9 - 11

A prayer; Faithful God, thank you for being my enduring resting place.
